House OKs money for dam visitors center

EAST ALTON — Despite a flood of federal budget cuts, funding for a visitors center at the new Melvin Price Locks and Dam is back in the water.

U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello's request for the $2.1 million package passed the House Thursday. The funding would allow the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to complete construction of the center.

The corps canceled a February bid opening after it lost $1 million because of 1995 congressional budget cuts. The center is planned for a 38-acre area off Illinois Route 143 "This funding means a great deal to the Alton area and our entire region," said Costello, a Belleville Democrat who worked with the corps in 1994 to hammer out an agreement to build the center at East Alton. Don't Forget Your Houseplants! Tips from the experts at

RANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

ouseplants are as popular today as they've been in many years. Actually, their popularity began to rise back in the seventies. The bell bottom pants and pork chop sideburns may be a thing of the past, but houseplants are still around, and as well-liked as ever.

There are plenty of good reasons for it. Indoor plants clean our air (proven by NASA' research), make a more. inviting living environment, add seauty, and much more, Indoor plants can also chase away the blues on a dreary day.

Houseplants often get Houseplants often get neglected this time of year, with all the outdoor stuff taking center stage. And we definitely don't want that to happen. Here are a few tips on indoor plant care.

Houseplants can actually be easier to take care of than fhose out² doors, since you centrol of their environment.

The first step is lighting. If your plants are near windows, Mother Nature is providing an abundant supply of light. Without supply of light. Without trying to sound depressing, the days are getting shorter, but there's still plenty of light to go around. If your plants aren't near a window, you'll have to provide supplemental lighting. There are two choices, incandescent and fluorescent, the latter being the better choice.

Fluorescent lighting distributes light over a greater range of the color spectrum, and it's also cooler. The color difference that fluorescent lighting provides isn't visible to the naked eye, but it's there, and your plants can definitely tell.

Plants are classified as to the amount of light they need; low, high or medium. Low light is about what you'd get from a window facing north, no direct sunlight at all. Medium light comes from east and west windows.

high light comes from the south. If your plants arent doing well and you don't know why, you may have them in the wrong location. If you're in doubt, the experts at Frank's can always help.

Watering of houseplants watering of nouseplants is something misunderstood by a great number of people, but it's actually very simple. Don't go by the calendar when watering the plants. They may not need water every day, and it's easy to tell if that's the case. If the top of the soil feels dry to the touch, the plant needs water. If the soil's moist, it doesn't. An easy way to tell is simply stick your finger into the soil. If it feels moist, leave the plant alone. Don't dry? An ice cream stick will suffice.

Frank's carries a wide is something misunder-

Frank's carries a wide assortment of quality foods for your indoor plants. Again, the experts at Frank's come to the rescue. They can recommend the correct type for your particular plants.

More Than Four Walls

You gotta love Harry, Harry is from the "Me-Tarzan-You-Jane" school of thinking, He has the same back jungle mentality when it comes to buying a house. "Roof-Floor-Four Walls-Pretty, Period."
Harry has a lot to learn about purchasing a home in a civilized society. He will be buying much more than four walls. He will be investing by leas well.
If you, like Harry, are thinking about buying a house, here are some of the primary points you should be longer than the state of the primary points.

walls. He will be investing in a lifestyle as weil.

If you, like Harry, are chinking about buying a house, here are some of the primary points you should be considering.

Absolutely critical. Is the neighborhood in keeping with your tastes? How has it changed over the past five years. How do you project it to be in the pext five. What is the zoning around you. Any planned changes for few highways or commercial usage, for instance.

Neighborhood, it is considering reflect a carring or care less attitude on the part of their owners. What about the people. If you are a lover of peace and quiet will you be able to live with the family next door with 10 kids, each practicing a different band instrument. Or the family all the project is done to the part of their owners. What about the people is you are a lover of peace and quiet will you be able to live with the family next door with 10 kids, each practicing a different band instrument. Or the family have a considered with the property values have a direct relationship to the quality of the school district. Remember, you are investing hard earned money. You want the resale value to be there when the time comes of from the office. Proximity to church, the groccery store, the decotor, cleaners, etc. Ages of those living around you. Communal activities in the subdivision or condominum complex where you can meet people. Playmates for the kids. All points to be considered when deciding to buy.
